

Reproductive Harms Questionnaire

The following 10 questions were posted on our website March to November, 2007. There were 237 responses. The questions are an attempt to understand the reproductive harms pubescent girls and women suffer within ritual abuse-torture families/groups. The results will be included in our writings wherever possible. The goal is to provide civil society with more and more insights into the crimes inflicted against the dignity of persons so victimized.

If you did not participate in this questionnaire and want to, simply send us your responses to the questions. Your answers will remain anonymous. You may find the questions difficult so please take care when answering them.
